	 Response Essex has been at the forefront of the development of the Essex, Southend & Thurrock Dementia Strategy. Following a public consultation last year the final strategy has been published (December 12), it sets out our strategic intentions to deliver good outcomes for the citizens of Essex who are living with, or caring for, someone with Dementia. The Priorities for 2011 – 2014 in the strategy address the issues above to :- A. Ensure that clear pathways are available for all people including those with young onset dementia or learning disabilities to access timely assessment, diagnosis, treatment and support; B. Ensure that people with dementia are able to access admission avoidance schemes, reablement and intermediate care;

der	nentia;
to a stra F. I	Further develop enhanced liaison and in reach services incute hospitals and nursing homes which include integies to reduce the use of anti-psychotic medication; Ensure that people with dementia have access to
•	iative care and support at the end of their life.

H. 0	Continue activities to raise awareness of dementia within Ith and social care organisations and the wider of c	nmunity to reduce stigma and promote early identification lementia.
	ere is a current action plan in place to ensure we are eting the priorities above. These priorities will be unc	lerpinned by the following principles :
	 Joint working between Health, Social Care, Independent, Private and Voluntary sectors to provide a seamless, equitable and consistent approach Equality and human rights. This will include a strong focus on differences in access to services, the safety, and effectiveness of care, and people's rights to be treated with dignity and respect.
	 A strong focus on the shift of provision to early intervention and prevention Personalisation and person centred support will be integral to all intervention to maximise opportunities for independence and improved quality of life.
	 An assets based approach focussed on living well with dementia Strengthened involvement of people with dementia and their carers in planning and development Joint approach to service development with joint commissioning where this improves outcomes for people with dementia and their carers.
	 Whole system support for the work of the NDS,
	supported by the development of existing and new networks at both senior and frontline staff levels Strong links to other agendas to maximise the benefits of work e.g. Older people's Commissioning Plan, Carers Strategy, Information Advice and

This could rise to 35,500 by the rear 2025. The JSNA recognises dementia as a priority ssue.
	3. Whether you need to make dementia a priority in your Joint Health and Wellbeing Strategies.
	 Response The Joint Health & Wellbeing Strategy has identified Iementia as a priority listed under Ageing Well with the areas for focus being Innovation and improvements to end of life care Improve and develop services to respond to the rising prevalence of dementia Developing integrated pathways for elderly care, encompassing provision but also prevention, reducing falls and ensuring independence is maintained for longer Enabling residents to maintain or regain their independence for as long as possible via technology, equipment, supporting carers and reablement services.
	 Signing up to the National Dementia Declaration and joining your Local Dementia Action Alliance to work with local partners to drive forward.

Conclusions	We have achieved much in Essex since the publication of the National Dementia Strategy in 2009. If we are going to improve the lives of people living with dementia as well as supporting carers we must continue to work together with our partners to improve access to support and information. We need to value the contribution that people living dementia can make to society as well as delivering improved outcomes that enable people to live well with dementia. The Mapping and Progress Report identifies what has been achieved and what we will achieve in the future. I have attached a copy of the report for your reference.
